

CELL Starts the Distribution of Flash® Games Geared for the Ovi Store
Content Popular in North America Is Now Available in Europe

TOKYO, Japan – August 18, 2009 – CELL Co., Ltd., the leading multimedia content provider in Japan, began the distribution of “Fish Feeder” and “Moonlight Dolphin” as the first wave of a range of products in the Ovi Store, a download/distribution site for Nokia terminals. These games, which enjoy great popularity in North America, will be distributed to about 180 countries around the world centering on Europe at the price of one euro each.

CELL has been offering one button Flash® games mainly in North America. The company is delighted to announce that it now starts the distribution of popular games, with a record of over one million downloads in less than a year in North America, in the Ovi Store. These games will be available to about 180 countries around the world, including Europe and India. Each game supports the Nokia Platform Series 40 and S60 terminals. Moreover, the games are available to a wider range of users by making the conventional Flash games compliant with Nokia’s latest touchscreen S60 5th edition mobile devices.

In the future, CELL intends to successively distribute other popular Flash games via the Ovi Store. It will also focus on the distribution of a variety of content by actively promoting the download and sale of content for mobile terminals in the Apple Store and other places.
